

Research in Aquaculture at AWI is based in two departments: (1) Knowledge and Technology Transfer and (2) Shelf Sea Systems Ecology. The two groups "Marine Aquaculture" and "Aquaculture Research" the broad range of research topics related to environmentally conscious, sustainable aquaculture.

In topic areas such as Offshore Aquaculture, Recirculating Aquaculture Systems, Culture Organisms, Feed and resources, Algae and IMTA Prof Buck and Matt Slater work closely together within PACES and with industry and national and international funders. Click one of the links, to see projects and teams of each group, or click the ZAF image to see our exciting Centre for Aquaculture research infrastructure.